How to submit

When you're ready to submit a bridging case, simply complete our 'Enquiry and application form' and email it to bridging@chlmortgages.co.uk.

We'll review your case, and if approved let you know what information we need to support the case. We'll also confirm the rate and procurement fee you'll receive.

Choosing your conveyancer route

During the bridging process, both CHL Mortgages and your client will need a conveyancer to complete the associated legal work.

Your client can choose to complete using joint representation or separate representation, just select your preferred choice on the enquiry and application form.

Joint representation

To proceed with joint representation, your client should select one of the firms listed below on the enquiry and application form. We'll instruct the firm to act on behalf of CHL Mortgages, and they'll also act for your client.

Separate representation

Your client can choose to continue using separate representation, where they are free to instruct a conveyancer of their choosing.

Simply complete the relevant sections of the 'Enquiry and application form', telling us the details of the firm your client has chosen to act on their behalf. Your client will also need to choose one of the firms below to act on behalf of CHL Mortgages.

Whichever conveyancer route your client wishes to take, they'll need to choose one of the below solicitors, either to represent both CHL Mortgages and your client, or just CHL Mortgages:
